Specialist Short Reports

Our specialist short reports are a low cost way of answering questions concerning the availability and type of work in any area of the UK or abroad.

Topics can include:

- Rates of claimant unemployment
- Levels of unemployment locally amongst people with disabilities
- Examples of advertised vacancies
- Earnings information relevant to the location and employment
- Employment and earnings prospects for graduates and high fliers
- Analysis of a specific industry or occupation

We have consultants from a wide range of backgrounds who have expertise in specific industries and occupations. Examples include the armed forces, education, health, finance, construction, manufacturing and administration.

We also have substantial labour market information on industries including: IT, oil and gas, film and TV and the leisure.

Please contact Jan Walters to discuss your requirements and get a quote.
